Apprentice Steward

The apprentice asked more questions than I had answers for. Three ledgers, two errands, and a day of close observation later, their sharp eyes had found gaps I had missed. Eager hands can widen the settlement's reach without fanfare.

Hearths Soften Feuds

Fewer quarrels reached the board this week. Shared meals, mended fences, and small courtesies did more than any order could have done. Trust returned by degrees, carried in bowls of stew and quiet apologies.

Settlement of Plenty

We set aside what could be spared and sent it where hardship had taken root. Each parcel was small, yet the effect was not. Generosity, carefully tended, multiplied faster than the stores diminished.
